FIERCE BATTLES RAGE

Poles Claim To Have Halted Red Assault
On Warsaw

London, Aug. 18.—Latest reports from the Polish battle front tell of fierce fighting at many spots, frequently with bayonets. At points here and there have been Russian successes, but the big success has gone with the Poles, who seem to have definitely checked the mighty sweep of the Bolshevik armies.

The reorganized Poles are attacking. They have retreated on their communications, while the Bolsheviks, with every step of advance, have increased the distance to their base of supplies. The Poles are defending the capital of their native land. The positions are the strongest they have occupied during the war. The men on the battle lines are constantly strengthened in spirit by seeing fresh troops going into position.

At Ciechanow, the first of the larger towns along the Dantzig-Warsaw railroad, heavy fighting has taken place, and the Poles have gone forward 15 miles over a front of roughly 20 miles.

At Lublin the red troops are reported in flight after fighting in which masses of troops clashed with bayonets.

The Russians claimed advantages in the fighting at Nove-Georgievsk, where, their report says, they occupied villages, and on the Wkra river, where they claim to have effected a crossing. They also report the capture of six guns.

An official bulletin issued at Warsaw says: "The counter offensive is developing successfully." Four red divisions were surrounded and captured at Garwolin, says a special bulletin. Garwolin is a city about 40 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Warsaw itself is confident. Praga, a suburb, is practically a first-aid station. Wounded men receive attention there and come back through the city in ambulances, motor-trucks and horse-drawn vehicles. Some come afoot. Prisoners go by almost constantly.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 18.—Destruction by fire of the plant of the Singer Manufacturing Company, makers of sewing machines, was averted early today after a difficult fight by all available firemen and apparatus in the city. Early today it was estimated the damage would not exceed $100,000.

PITCHER MAYS FREED OF PLAYER'S DEATH

New York, Aug. 18.—Pitcher Carl Mays of the New York American league club, whose pitched ball fractured the skull and caused the death of Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, voluntarily appeared at the homicide bureau of the district attorney's office. After an interview Assistant District Attorney Joyce declared Chapman's death was due to accident purely and indicated that no further investigation by the district attorney or the police would occur. Mays then returned to his lodging house unescorted. He was deeply grieved over the accident and efforts of even his most intimate teammates failed to comfort him.

Ray Chapman's home was in Herlin, Williamson county, Ill. His wife was living in Cleveland during the baseball season and was notified when he was injured.

HARDING TO DELIVER LABOR DAY ADDRESS ON FRONT PORCH

Candidate To Continue
Campaign Along Original Lines.

Marion, O., Aug. 18.—A conference of Republican party chiefs which convened here to shape a speaking schedule for Senator Harding adjourned after a session of several hours without completing the task of setting a time for another meeting.

Requests from various parts of the country that the nominee make speaking trips away from Marion were discussed, along with plans for the reception here of front porch delegations, but no out-of-town invitation was accepted and only two dates were added to the list of front porch engagements.

Will H. Hays, the national chairman, announced that "at Senator Harding's personal, very insistent wish," the candidate's Labor day speech would be delivered from the front porch to a meeting arranged by the central labor union.

The chairman said the senator was anxious to speak on labor issues "here among people who know his record," and that for that reason invitations to other cities for that day had been turned down. The other front porch date announced was Sept. 4, when the nominee will receive the various Republican state ways and means chairmen.

Times and places where the several issues of the campaign are to be presented by Senator Harding also were discussed, and it was announced that there would be an elaboration of his position on the league of nations in the speech he will make here Aug. 28 to a delegation from Indianapolis. It is expected that the address will be devoted almost exclusively to foreign affairs and will help to bring the league issue more prominently to the fore of the Republican campaign.

SETTLEMENT MAY NOT BE REACHED IN WAGE MEET

Pessimism Prevails At Wage Sale Conference

DEADLOCK UNBROKEN

Workers Say Operators Offer Nothing That Is Acceptable

Cleveland, Aug. 18.—Among miners and operators attending the joint conference of the scale committee here, a pessimistic feeling prevails as to any settlement being reached regarding the demands of the miners for an increased wage for the day and monthly men and the tonnage men in the field.

The subcommittee appointed by the joint scale committee to try and reach a basis of settlement of the deadlock held two meetings. At the second meeting the subcommittee divided itself into another subcommittee consisting of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and William Green, secretary-treasurer of the organization, and four miners and four operators.

This second subcommittee was in session several hours, and when it adjourned announced that there would be a meeting of the subcommittee today and a meeting of the full scale committee.

It is understood that the second subcommittee will report to the original subcommittee that it made no progress in its deliberations and that the subcommittee in turn will make a similar report to the full scale committee.

When John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was asked about the situation, he said: "The joint conference of miners and operators of the central competitive field has now been in session four days. We have diligently sought to protect interests of our people and to have the operators agree to a basis of settlement of the controversy that would be satisfactory. Up to this time the operators have refused to agree to any such adjustment. They have offered nothing that could be regarded as being satisfactory or that would do justice to the mine workers."

SIX WORKMEN ARE KILLED IN BLAST AT MICHIGAN PLANT

Explosion Occurs at Brunswick Balke Collender Company.

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 18.—Six workmen were reported killed and many seriously injured in two explosions early today in the rubber plant of the Brunswick Balke Collender Company here. At 7:30 o'clock the police reported six bodies had been taken from the plant and ten persons, several of whom may die, were in hospitals.

The plant caught fire after the explosion and all available fire apparatus was called upon to fight the flames. Ambulances were rushed to the plant to aid the injured.

RUSSIANS REPULSE ATTACKS OF POLES

Berlin, August 18.—The Achthub Abendblatt reported today that the Russians have repulsed the Polish counter attacks northwest of Radzymin on the front northwest of Warsaw. A great artillery duel is raging in the sector of Novo Georgievsk, on the Vistula river, northwest of Warsaw. According to the Achthub Abendblatt the advance of Russian cavalry into west Prussia towards the fortress of Graudenz continues.

Polish women soldiers are playing a conspicuous part in the Polish counter offensive along the Warsaw-Dantzig corridor. Press advices from Warsaw said that the Polish army which gave battle to the Russians advancing on Thorn contained large numbers of women who fought side by side with the men, displaying the utmost bravery.

The old trench systems dug by the Germans when they occupied Warsaw in 1915 have been put in condition to withstand attacks and will be used by the Poles if needed. They constitute a powerful system of fortifications devised by skilled engineers under Hindenburg.

RUSSIANS PROPOSE FREEDOM OF POLAND IN PEACE PARLEY

Would Have Guarantee
Against Future Attacks
On Russia

London, Aug. 18.—The Russian armistice and peace delegation at Minsk has submitted proposals announcing soviet Russia's intention of respecting the independence of Poland, but demanding that the "landlords of Poland give guarantees against renewed attacks on Russia," said an official statement issued by the Russo-Polish conference and received from Minsk today.

After preliminary conversations the Poles proposed that the conference adjourn to reconvene again on August 19. The Russian delegates protested and insisted that the negotiations be resumed on August 18. It was finally agreed that the parley should be renewed August 18.

The conference was opened by M. Danishevsky and the Russians began to state their terms at once.

The negotiations referred to in the official telegram from Minsk evidently took place on Monday. The reference to "landlords" was explained in an interview given by George Tchitcherine, the Russian soviet foreign minister to the International News Service last Saturday.

M. Tchitcherine declared that Russia would insist upon terms which would protect soviet Russia from further attacks by "the imperialistic Polish landlords" or the great land owning gentry of Poland.

TEXAS HERDS ARE DEPLETED OWING TO LACK OF LOANS

Southern Cattlemen Face Serious Situation At Present.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 18.—Texas cattlemen are facing a very serious situation, which has its bearing on the country's beef supply, due to their inability to get loans, according to A. C. Williams, assistant secretary of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas. He said the money stringency was bringing about the depletion of existing herds and preventing the building up of new ones.

"More good pasturage is going to waste in the cattle country than for many years," Mr. Williams said. "Range conditions in Texas and elsewhere have been ideal for the past year, and prices, though unsatisfactory, have not in general meant actual loss to the stockman. The relatively low prices prevailing have been in goodly measure a result of the inability to obtain credits. The present financial situation, however, following on the heels of severe droughts in both the southwest and northwest, is bringing about a reduction of the cattle population which must in the end mean mounting beef prices and nation-wide economic loss."

LUCKY STRIKE

TOBACCO

CIGARETTE

The one special thing that makes you like Lucky Strike—in a cigarette or pipe—is this entirely different flavor of toasted Burley tobacco.

Nature has made Burley tobacco perfect—almost. Toasting finishes the job.

Toasting seals in the Burley flavor. Toasting closes the pores in each leaf. The Burley flavor can't come out except when you light your cigarette or pipe. Heat seals it in, heat releases it.

(You know the way a bee works on honey. Seals in all the delicious honey with a coating of wax. Same principle.)

It means something to you to have the original Burley flavor on hand when you want it.

Try Lucky Strike and see for yourself how toasting makes the flavor delicious.

RED CROSS LUNCHEON AND CONFERENCE IS POSTPONED FOR TIME

The Greene County Red Cross Conference and luncheon which was to have been held at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday, has been postponed because of the small number of reservations made so far.

Royal Clyde Agne of the home department of the Red Cross, Springfield was to have been the speaker at the affair Thursday.

MANY NEW QUOT CLUBS FORMED IN SECTION RECENTLY

Through the influence of the Xenia Quot Club many new quot clubs have been formed in this section, the latest addition to the list being Tippecanoe City Club, which will play a team from the locals here Thursday evening starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Some mighty good pitchers have been developed at Tippecanoe City, an unusual circumstance for a new club, and the captain of the visitors is requesting that the best local players be pitted against them. Owing to the distance the new club will come and the fact that it is their first match game, a good attendance of members of the local club and their families and friends are urged to be present.

On Friday evening the Milledgeville team will play the local club for the first time this season at the grounds here. Of the eight players they will bring, four have never taken part in a tournament and these four will be matched with four players from the local club who also have had no tournament experience. When Xenia and Milledgeville met in Milledgeville several weeks ago, Milledgeville took eight out of the 12 games played. Roy Ary will captain the Xenia team in this match.

An elimination contest will be started in the Xenia Club next Monday, by which it is hoped to bring in the entire membership of 75 and thus arrive at the best players in the club. Two different captains will be in charge of a certain number of players each night and a different squad of players will pitch each evening. When a player is defeated he will be eliminated, the winners taking on new men and stay in as long as they can avoid defeat.

The newest members of the club will be matched first and then will come the medium players and last the regulars or more experienced quot pitchers. The man victorious to the last will be declared temporary champion of the local club. Much interest is being manifested among club members and others interested in the quot game in the results of the elimination games.

WIFE WAS GROWING WORSE DAY BY DAY

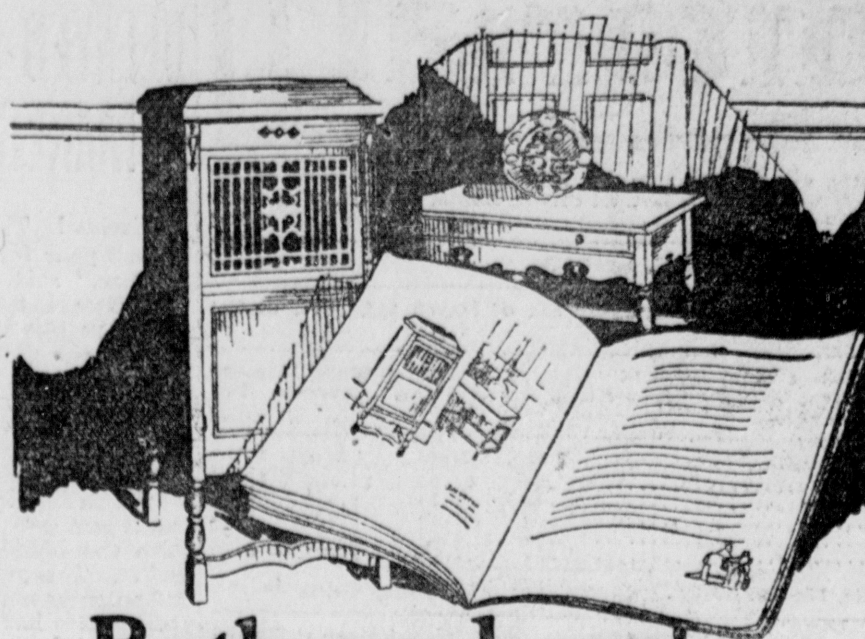

Claimed she had a very bad stomach and liver trouble. Continued weak, nervous and pale. The great herb remedy Drecko, brought her out quickly and now she is well and strong again.

"For six weeks my wife laid in bed from flu and after getting up could not regain her strength, though she had taken much medicine," said Mr. A. L. Huber, the popular Big 4 engineer residing at 1013 North Main street, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

"They told her she had a bad stomach trouble and sluggish liver, yet none of the medicine she took did any good. She kept going down all the time. All the color was gone from her cheeks, she was weak and nervous, with no appetite. Her kidneys were also deranged and frequently had terrible backaches.

"All of us are delighted with her great improvement since she has been taking Drecko; really she is like herself again—full of life and happy. Her appetite is fine, stomach no longer bothers but digests everything without forming gas; her liver seems perfectly normal again and she sleeps like a baby. There's nothing too good for me to say about Drecko."

Drecko has won a wide reputation for rebuilding run-down weakened system for women and children. It is pleasant to take and good results are quickly seen. All druggists now sell Drecko and it is being especially introduced in Xenia by Schaefer's Drug Store.

IS THE UNITED STATES TO BLAME FOR TURNING LOOSE A GOVERNMENT WRECKER?

The easiest way for Germany to get rid of her great indebtedness imposed by the Allies in the Versailles Treaty, is to REPUDIATE it by seeking an alliance with soviet Russia, which it is believed she is about to do. President Wilson's special friend, Colonel House, who is now abroad as a newspaper correspondent, telegraphs this probability from the Hague.

The man Trotsky, who is the head of the Russian bolshevik government (if it can be called such) is a great scoundrel. We remember very well when Germany first had Trotsky and Lenin in Russia doing its dirty work, and how disgusted the world was with the outcome.

It is always easier to tear down, than to build up, and this appears to be the bolshevik system of action—government wreckers. The Manufacturers' Record says, in reference to the Bolshevist menace and other terrors in Eastern Europe:

"Sad to say, America is largely responsible for all this mighty turmoil. America let Trotsky go to Russia even after we knew his mission, and Bolshevism is the red terror, warmed into life by our work and our failure to stop Trotsky when we knew his plans ere he sailed from New York. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis has repeatedly said that after Trotsky's infamous speech the night before he sailed for Russia, urging his followers to overthrow the dirty rotten American Government while he went to Russia and overturned that Government and stopped Russia's war against Germany, the British Government held up Trotsky's ship at Halifax and urged our Government to recall his passports, but that the Socialistic influence in Washington was sufficiently strong to cause us to deny England's request, so we let Trotsky go on his mission of hellish work."

America might have saved the world from this awful peril if England's entreaty had been heeded and Trotsky had been refused his passport. But some man in Washington City, who was in a responsible place, was an enemy of law and order. Trotsky should have been sent to prison. His crime was infinitely worse than that of Debs.

GREAT DEMAND FOR FOOL KILLERS.

The campaign is still young, but it looks as if both national committees, and particularly the subcommittees which are surrounding the two candidates for the Presidency, should start in an active hunt for a few first-class professional fool killers. Up to date this important part of the campaign seems to have been overlooked and the candidates in consequence have been deluged with all sorts of questions of that familiar kind that glib fellows ask, but which the wisest of men can't answer, at least offhand. And what is more, they have been allowed to reply to flip impertinence in a way that is prejudicial to the main and honest features of the coming contest.

Why should Senator Harding have paid any attention to the request of an insignificant group of soap-box amateurs in New York claiming to speak for the American women and meddling in the muddy pool of Russo-American relations? In the first place, the immediate executive acts which have anything to do with our policy until March 4 are beyond the control of either Senator Harding or Cox. So that answers to far from ingenious queries as to immediate foreign policies, no matter what is said, are not likely to satisfy or gratify those who openly reveal their joy over having suggested an inescapable two-horned dilemma.

We see the campaign being made ridiculous by the candidates being asked questions analogous to: "Do you believe the moon is made of green cheese? Answer immediately." "The Anti-Green Cheese Emergency and Embargo Association." "Do you hold that the earth is flat and to the sun-do-move theory? Answer to the Flat Earth and Moving Sun Defense Association." "Did you ever say that the working people could get their sunshine from cucumbers? Answer on peril of our refusal to support you. The Friends of the Cucumber and Sour Cream Association." And so it goes on with political expediency and good nature striving to produce answers that the fools cannot misinterpret to the disadvantage of candidate or party. But what folderol over individuals and group questionnaires, when, despite the personal pretense and the unwarranted claims of adulated groups to represent their fellow men, it is known to all that they are nobodies seeking a little cheap notoriety.—Exchange.

HAY FEVER SEASON DELAYED BUT FINALLY MAKES APPEARANCE

"Kachoo! This has been kachoo-a-blessed year for hay-kachoo-feverites. Kachoo," said a victim of the summer disease today.

And in this brief sneeze he has expressed the sentiments of all victims of the pollen in these parts and others. Hay-fever, the disease of the red and rapid nose the ticklish nostrils, and the aggravated throat has been pretty much bested so far this year.

It is an ill-wind that blows no good, and it is a poor rain that does not receive the blessings of the hay-fever victim. This year rain and more rain, and recently nine straight days of the precipitation has served to keep flower, weed and hay pollen down and has saved agony to the hay-fever victims. The disease is one that attacks its victims about this time of each year. It comes from sensitive throat and nostrils which are aggravated by the pollen and dust flying from the myriads of flowers, weeds and hay at this time of year. It registers by causing tickling in the nostrils, sneezing and red noses and annoyed throats. Practically the only relief to be found for hay fever is to go north along the lakes, where hay-feverites from all over the middle states make annual pilgrimages.

There, living in colonies, the hay-feverites sneeze through several weeks generally until the first frost comes, when relief is in sight and they may return to their middle-western homes without further sufferings.

This year the hay-fever is not so prominent, however, due to the recent rains according to physicians. Hot dry air is the worst for the hay-fever victim and the recent rains have been much to their liking. If it continues comparatively damp the annual pilgrimage may be foregone this season. If not, there is yet opportunity for the sneezing chorus to come into full prominence before the limelight.

AXWORTHY TAKES R. & M. STAKE OF $1,000 AT RACES

Driving to strenuous finishes in all three heats, Greyworthy, the gray gelding by Axworthy, with Cliff Todd up, took the Robbins & Myers stake of $1,000 in the 2:13 trot on the afternoon of the opening day at the Clark County Fair, Springfield, Tuesday.

The race was the prettiest of a good afternoon racing with Goleddn Spier Harry Stokes trotter runner up in all three starts and considered as favorite before the first heat, Mack Forbes was third and The Ace was fourth. In the 2:19 pace Billy K took the event in two out of the three heats, while Oliver Evans won the two year old trot. Merchants' Stake of $1,000 after the event had been forced into an extra heat for that class of racing. The 2:15 pace was won by Lady Barongale in straight heats, the pacer being a local winner and in the money twice during the county fair events here.

Starter Steve Phillips of this city is getting the wiggles away with much success. Tuesday after warning Drivers Stokes and McAllister for scoring head of the pole horse in the third heat of the 2:19 pace he fined each $50.

EVERGREEN.

You'd say I'm in the yellow leaf, if you should count my years; but I don't travel much with grief, or sash around in tears, and so I work a gorgeous bluff that's based on seemingly mirth, and people say I'm young enough for anything on earth. I have all kinds of pea-green pains along my legs and back; but when a lot of Jakes and Janes are calling at my shack, on maladies I waste no words, I don't discourse of woes; I talk of hams and hummingbirds and cheerful things like those. A man is old when he begins to talk of ailments dire, to sigh all day and toast his shins before a fitful fire. A man grows old when he is prone to boost his vanished time, to view the present with a groan, and swear it is a crime. If I should live eight hundred years, composing helpful rhymes, as Noah and such prophets hung on in ancient times, I'd still be young as I am now, though outwardly defaced, with heavy furrows on my brow, and whiskers to my waist. For when I see what old men do, I do the other thing; their vain repinings I eschew, and whoop around and sing.

BLACKO STOMACH & LIVER TABLETS
THE KEY TO GOOD HEALTH

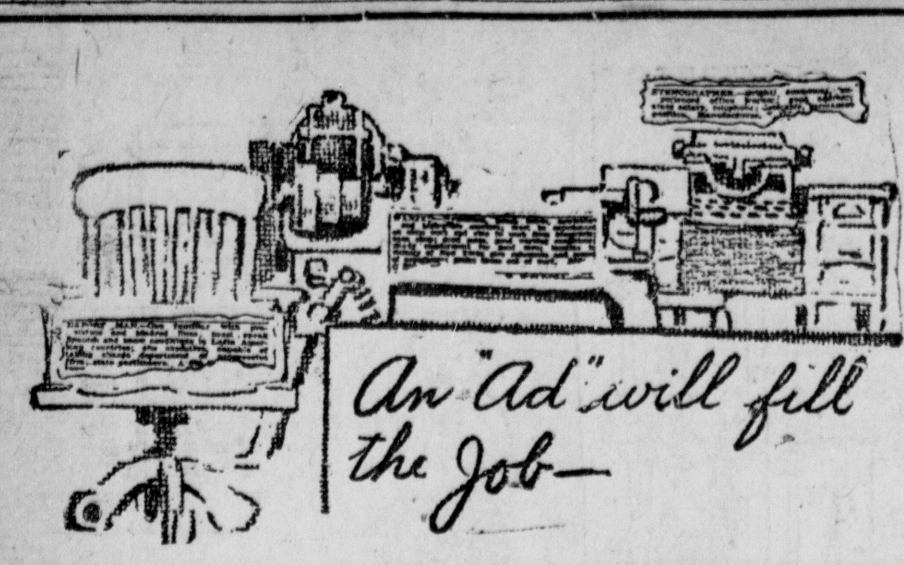

Are You Sinking Into the Rut of Ill-Health Because Your Blood Is Starving For Iron?
Physician Explains Why Modern Methods of Living Sap the Iron From The Blood and Why So Many Men and Women Are Benefited By The Strength-Giving, Up-Building Effect of Organic Iron like NUXATED IRON
Many a man or woman is wearily trudging along the road of life steadily becoming more weakened and run-down simply because their blood is getting thin, pale and watery—starving for a want of strength-giving iron. At any moment they run the risk of sinking into the Rut of Ill-Health, and by not building up their physical condition in time they often sentence themselves to a lifetime of misery and regrets.
"Without iron there can be no strong, sturdy men or healthy, beautiful women," says Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, in commenting upon how the strain of modern methods of living sap the iron from the blood and break down the health and strength.
"Seldom do you find a weakling in a place of real power.
The men who reach the top in business are those who do not neglect their physical or mental development. The women who come to the front in commercial or social life, and the ones who are most successful in the home are those who realize the value of health.
"You can look around and see any number of such people and you can tell that every one of them is possessed of rich, red blood—the kind with plenty of iron in it to build strength and energy. Yet, there are thousands of people who are weak, nervous and run-down for the lack of iron and do not know what to take. In cases of this kind, I always prescribe organic iron like Nuxated Iron for I find that by enriching the blood and creating new red blood cells, it helps strengthen the nerves, rebuild the weakened tissues and give renewed energy to the whole body. Through my own tests of Nuxated Iron I am convinced it is one of the best strength and blood builders any physician can prescribe."
Among other physicians to comment on the need of rich, red blood to increase the power and endurance of weakened, run-down men and women, is Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out-door Dept.), N. Y., and the Westchester County Hospital, who says: "There is little doubt, in my opinion, that many men and women would be stronger, more energetic and vigorous in body and mind, and therefore more successful in life, if they would only enrich their blood with organic iron and thus fortify and invigorate their whole system."
"There can be no success or happiness without the rich, red blood—full of iron—that always goes with health. Wherever you go you can tell the fellows with iron in their blood. They are the strong, vigorous, dominant, successful ones brimming over with life and energy. In my opinion, the best way to build up the strength and endurance is to take organic iron—Nuxated Iron. I have prescribed it with remarkable results and in many instances it has increased the strength and endurance in two weeks' time. I cannot recommend it too highly for men or women who are weak, nervous and run-down."
If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.
MANUFACTURER'S NOTE: Nuxated Iron, which is recommended above, is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. Each tablet of genuine Nuxated Iron is stamped, not upon the outside, but in the center, with the words "NUXATED IRON" and the words "Nuxated Iron are stamped into each bottle, so that the public may not be led into accepting inferior substitutes. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in tablet form only by all druggists.

THE COQUETTE
 The girl who can coquette successfully, usually commands my unbounded admiration. It's the girl who tries to coquette and can't who deserves real pity.
 Do you know whether or not you are the type that can coquette? If you are small, blonde, fluffy haired, with a great deal of natural vivacity, you probably are. If you are tall, lean, not very pretty, and a bit awkward you certainly are not the sort.
 This does not mean of course, that all coquettes must be small and fuzzy haired. Some of the greatest ones in history have been stately and dignified women. But their coqueting, if it may be called such, was probably more of a subtle variety and did not consist in making eyes and giggling.
 After all, that is the only objection to coquette—the eyemaking and giggling. To 'coquette' has come to mean—the charming of men by the display of "cute" little personal tricks and mannerisms; it's as much as saying "See how pretty my eyes are when I smile, my mouth when I pout." It is a physical rather than a mental appeal and that's why a coquette must be physically attractive. The homely girl will make a far more lasting appeal if she will do it through her mentality or through the fineness of her character. That is the thing you must learn—if you want to appeal to hair. Stop ruffing it; you had better use curlers if you must fluff it to make it becoming.

FOR THE TABLE.
English Mutton or Lamb Pie—Two pounds of mutton or lamb, one large or two small onions, salt, pepper, half dozen cloves.

Cook until well done. Add a little piece of butter. Thicken broth to a gravy and have meat cut to small bits.

Paré two good sized apples and slice them. Place meat in baking dish. Place sliced apples on meat, allow gravy to cover meat. Place a biscuit dough on top with opening; place in hot oven to bake. Save rest of gravy to keep hot to use at the table when served.

Golden Glow (a new breakfast dish)—Toast several pieces of dry bread and lay on a platter, butter them a little. Take four hard-boiled eggs and dice the whites and yolk. Place in a cream dressing made from one pint milk, a little butter, salt and thicken. Pour over toast. Grate yolks over the top.

Delicious Green Apple Dessert—Before the apples have become ripe mix one-half glass of red currant jelly or red tart jelly with three-quarters of a cup of boiling water and when it is dissolved add one pound of granulated sugar and the grated rind, also the juice of one lemon; let it boil three minutes in a saucepan. Then put in eight unripe apples, pared and cored, simmer gently until the apples are transparent, then lift them out carefully into a glass dish.

Let the syrup boil for five minutes and when partially cooled pour it over the apples. When cold it should be a clear, light red jelly.

Stuffed Figs or Prunes—Make a lengthwise incision in steamed prunes; remove stones and proceed as for stuffed dates.

DISCOVERIES.

To Remove Fruit Stains on Hands—The best thing to remove fruit stains from the hands is tartaric acid. Also to remove stains from hands use rhubarb; rub over hands before putting them in water.

Well Water—These hot days make sulphur water smell, and it has a disagreeable taste. By throwing a double handful of salt in the well every week will help it wonderfully and it has a much better taste.

How to Save Paraffin From Year to Year—When you open jelly for use upon the table remove the paraffin placed to seal the substance and wash the wax thoroughly. Place it in a discarded teapot and keep it until the following cleaning season. When the occasion arises remelt the paraffin in the teapot and use it at your pleasure. This method not only provides a clean place to keep the wax tops during the winter, but also furnishes a convenient and sanitary manner for their repeated use.

DRY CLEANING.

As dry cleaning is so high this is a good suggestion for a good many households:

One gallon gasoline, one teaspoon ether, one teaspoon chloroform, one teaspoon ammonia, one gill of alcohol. Buy the last four drugs in quantities of one ounce each and use as needed. As it evaporates quickly keep corked.

empire, and from then—which was about the middle of the 19th century—he was the "Stormy Petrel" of politics.

He was foreign secretary at the time of our Civil War, and it was his sympathy for the Northern cause, combined with the brilliancy of our own Adams, that restrained England from taking side in the

JOHN RUSSELL

August 18, 1792

John Russell, British statesman, and for many years the storm center of English politics, was born in London on the 18th of August, 1792. He came of an English family which had been politically prominent since the time of Henry VIII. A liberal education and a great deal of travel prepared him for the important part he was to play. His first political attempts were failures and when he was 25 he seriously thought of withdrawing to private life.

He was persuaded to make still another attempt and from that time on his career was a brilliant success. He succeeded the famous Sir Robert Peel as head of political affairs of the

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

CHAPTER 93

I worked steadily for an hour, until 12:30. Then the boy, Henry, came in and remarked in an off-hand way:

"Mr. Claxton said you could go to lunch."

"Thank you, Henry. Will you tell me where I can get my luncheon? I don't know any of the places down town."

He looked very important, and very pleased.

"Sure, Miss!"

"Miss Stewart," I smiled as I gave him my name. I had no intention of being called "Miss" by an office boy.

"Miss Stewart," he repeated. Then, "You go right to the corner of the building, then turn and half way down the block is a nice quiet place. It ain't where most of the office girls go, but—I think you will like it."

"Thank you, Henry. I am sure I shall."

I found the place easily—a clean, quiet room up one flight of stairs. The food was plain but good, and I felt very grateful to Henry for suggesting it. That I had made a friend of him by asking his advice, and then accepting it, I did not know until later. Neither did I know that boys of his age, 15 or 16, are very sensitive to that sort of thing.

Mr. Claxton passed me in the street as I returned from my luncheon. He was talking earnestly with another man, but they both raised their hats, and Mr. Claxton smiled.

When I reached home that night and was recounting the day's experiences, I told Mary of that incident. "Ain't that what they ought to do?" she asked.

"Yes—I suppose so. But such courtesies are not usual enough now for me not to feel pleased over them."

In the afternoon I was given some circulars to fold and address. Mr. Claxton would not return that day, so the clerk who brought the big package of printed matter to me explained.

I was rather glad. The unusual strain of writing his letters had tired me. I was not at all strong yet, and the nervous dread of failing had given me a slight headache. This work—folding and addressing circulars, would be easy.

"So you're the new girl. What's your name? We might as well know work in the same place."

What to call each other as long as we waited. She burst out laughing.

"I guess your mother got your name out of a novel. Mine's Jennie Wilcox. Some difference!"

"I think it a very attractive name," I responded.

"Well I don't! And I'm going to change it soon if some other girl don't tread on my toes in the meantime."

I hadn't the slightest idea what she meant or what to say, so I kept still. "I didn't see you at the restaurant this noon."

"I went to a quiet little place Henry recommended. It was really very good."

"You mean you asked that kid where to go? That's rich!" she added, as I nodded my head. "We all go to a big place where they have music, but most of the girls that work for brokers. We have pretty good times."

"I'll take you tomorrow if you like."

"No thank you, Miss Wilcox. I prefer the quieter place. I have been very ill lately," I added as I saw the expression on her face at my refusal of her offer to introduce me to her crowd, "and get tired so easily that I must rest at noon."

She made no reply, but I could see I had offended her.

"Is that the kind of work you are going to do here?" she asked.

"No—not entirely. I am taking Miss Bacon's place with Mr. Claxton."

"Gee, you must be some stenographer to step into her shoes! She was some little secretary, believe me, and she piled the work on her—paid her for it too."

"I am not at all expert. It is more than kind in Mr. Claxton to give me the place. It is my first office position."

This was my first mistake. I saw by her face that something I said had shocked and displeased her, but what I could not imagine. I was enlightened soon after she left me. I overheard her tell a clerk in the outer office.

"That Miss Stewart, the new girl never has worked in an office before and Mr. Claxton passed me, all of us up to take her on. He must have met her before and be stuck on her."

The vulgarity made me blush. But I soon forgot it in my regret that I had told so much of my affairs. I must learn to keep quiet if there was jealousy among the employees, or I might lose my place because of it.

Tomorrow—Miss Wilcox puts Zena "Cat!" Mary said when I told her. Wise.
